

GRIPS-ODI Joint Feedback Seminar

Good Donorship and the Choice of Aid Modalities

—Matching Aid with Country Needs and Ownership—

GRIPS Development Forum has been engaged in a research project on “Good Donership and the Choice of Aid Modalities” throughout the year 2004 in order to draw implications of global and Japan’s aid policies for effective aid. The GRIPS team has benefited from advice provided by ODI researchers as well as Japanese aid professionals and researchers.

In order to provide feedback from this research and stimulate discussion concerning the issues that need further investigation, the GRIPS will hold a seminar on the 15th of March 2005, inviting two researchers from ODI. We hope that this opportunity will contribute to broadening the spectrum of the research agenda and policy debates.

Theme: Good Donorship and the Choice of Aid Modalities

—Matching Aid with Country Needs and Ownership

Date: 15 March 2005 (Tue) 14:00-17:00

Place: JICA Institute for International Cooperation, 2F conference room

(MAP: <http://www.jica.go.jp/branch/ific/map/>)

Speakers: Karin Christiansen, Debbie Warrener (ODI)

Izumi Ohno, Shoko Yamada, Niiya Yumiko (GRIPS)

Language: English

Organized by National Graduate Institute for Policy Studies (GRIPS)

- The 21st Century COE Program

Cooperated by Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA)

Contact: Azko Hayashida, GRIPS Development Forum

Tel: 03-3341-0384, Email: azko@grips.ac.jp

If you intend to participate please provide your name, affiliation, title and contact number by email at azko@grips.ac.jp not later than 28 February 2005.

Please understand that, due to a limited space, we might not be able to accommodate your application. You will be notified by return in that case.

Please look at the attached document for more details including the program.

* Our report is available here:

<http://www.grips.ac.jp/forum/pdf05/ModalityEng.pdf>