Learning from East Asia

- ❑ NOT copying some specific policies adopted in some East Asian country to Africa.
- ❑ Learning mindset and methodology of designing and implementing industrial strategies.
- ❑ There is a standard industrial policy menu, but selectivity and adjustment are needed to adapt to unique conditions of each country.
- ❑ The Eastern approach should be complementary to the Western approach.

Features of Japanese Approach to Development

Pragmatism and concern with specific industries:

- ❑ Target orientation—striving for concrete vision, targets, roadmaps, and actions instead of general capability improvements.
- ❑ Field (gemba) orientation—working on factory floor or crop field to solve concrete problems.
- ❑ Joint work—transferring skills and knowledge to developing countries by working together (OJT); no parallel mechanisms.
- ❑ Dynamic capacity development—policy learning and expectation of graduation from aid.

Entry Points for Japan's Industrial Cooperation in Africa

Japan, a small investor and donor in Africa, but with East Asian experience, can offer the following:

1. For a country with reasonable visions and plans, standard policy tools (training, quality control, kaizen, SME promotion, etc.) can be provided.
2. Policy dialogue for making and strengthening visions and strategies.
3. Comprehensive regional development with core infrastructure, supported by HRD, regional planning, industrial support, rural development, etc.
4. Creating enabling environment for Japanese investment under the principle of open access and non-excludability.

Features of Ethiopian Industrial Strategy

- Unique development strategy based on DD and ADLI: strong state guiding private sector, interest in East Asia.
- Linkage between policy learning and expansion of policy scope
  - Around 2003-now: promoting a few export sectors with incentives and donor support; learning BPR, benchmarking, policy documents, scaling up of pilots, twinning, public-private dialogue, kaizen...
  - PASDEP II: addition of import substitution, kaizen institutionalization, etc. as policy capability has risen.

Expanding Policy Scope

- The need for broadening the policy scope was also suggested by Dani Rodrik (2008) and World Bank:
  - Move from 1st to 2nd generation industrial policies.
  - Support investors beyond current priority industries.
  - Broaden the list of policy instruments.
- Our approach
  - Emphasis on policy evolution—matching the speed of policy learning with policy expansion.
  - Supporting policy expansion with concrete, hands-on information, studies, and technical cooperation to avoid policy mistakes and political capture.

Standard Ingredients of an Industrial Master Plan

Vision	Importance, role, orientation, and positioning of industry in national development
Targets	Long- and medium-term numerical and/or qualitative targets
Situation analysis	Current status, potentials and obstacles of the domestic industry in the national, regional and global context; tables and graphics for data, surveys, international comparisons, etc.
Policy issues	A small number of selected issues should be identified, prioritized, and analyzed in preparation for designing policy action
Action plan or action mechanism	A large matrix that pre-specifies actions, sub-actions, expected output, success criteria, deadlines, and responsible organizations; procedure for monitoring and reporting should also be specified. Alternatively, a monthly high-level committee chaired by top leader, or a well-focused and well-coordinated budgeting and project approval process may substitute the action plan matrix.
